Leadership Outside the Office, Directing From a Distance

MEAC EDUCATIONAL WEBINAR

Date: Thursday, August 6, 2020

Time: 12:00 pm - 1:00 pm - Central DST

Registration deadline is July 31st.

MEAC is pleased to offer this webinar at NO-COST to MEAC Members. This webinar will be limited to 100 participants so please sign up early.

Purpose:

We have learned a lot about our jobs as coordinators and administrators during this pandemic. This talk will focus on our role in shaping what our day looks like when we return to the office. We can be leaders in eliminating inefficiency in our day, setting new expectations for communication with our program leadership, and discovering wellness for personal health and work satisfaction.

Who should attend:

Administrators, Coordinators, and Managers of undergraduate & graduate medical education programs from all specialties, experience levels, and settings including academic, urban, rural, and community training sites.

Webinar Presenter:

Ms. Kelli Corning is the Associate Director for the University of Washington, Internal Medicine Residency Program. A graduate of the University of Washington and Pacific Northwest native, Kelli is a dynamic and engaging leader who has built her career in graduate medical education. She administers one of
